

HYPEBEAST

Artist Dozie Kanu Unveils Conceptual Furniture for RIMOWA & 'KALEIDOSCOPE'

Sculptural and functional works crafted out of luggage parts.

By Keith Estiler/Apr 18, 2018/Design

This past Tuesday, RIMOWA and Milanese creative studio/magazine KALEIDOSCOPE announced their joint project consisting of a short film, photo zine, and conceptual furniture crafted by rising artist and designer, Dozie Kanu. The Houston-based creative utilized various materials alongside ribbed aluminum sheets, popularly found on RIMOWA's signature luggage, to create the unconventional furnishings. The multi-platform project recently made its debut at Spazio Maiocchi for Milan Design Week 2018.

Head over to KALEIDOSCOPE's official website to learn more and check out the conceptual furniture in the slideshow above. In other design news, Caesarstone and Snarkitecture teamed up to create an immersive installation called Altered States.